OUARTERLY CONFERENCE.

Interesting Addresses by President Joseph F. Smith and Visiting Apostles.

Appeal Made to Rev. W. E. Maison to Reconsider Kesignation-Irrigaion Lawsuit.

The quarterly conference of the Weber Stake was commenced yesterday in the Ogden tabernacle. Two meetings were held at 10 a. m. and 2 p. m. The attendance was very large, the building being entirely too small to accommodate the large gatherings.

President L. W. Shurtliff presided at the services, which were commenced in the morning by the choir singing, "Redeemer of Israel." Prayer by Elder William W. Burton. Continued by the choir singing, "How firm a founda-

President C. F. Middleton reported the condition of the Stake; the various associations, he said, are in a good condition and the Stake in general is prospering.

Elder Andrew Bowman, who for the past two years has been laboring in England on a mission, gave an ex-cellent report of the mission work in that land, and stated that there was more inquiry after the principles Mormonism today than ever before in

Brother C. P. Ferrin sang a solo.
Elder John Bowman, brother of the former speaker, who has recently returned from a two years' mission to California, reported his labors. He gave a very flattering outline of the work in that mission, and closed, as his brother had, by bearing a strong testimony to the truth.

Sisters Mary Jones and Tillie Hancock sang a beautiful duet.

Apostle John Henry Smith next spoke. He said he felt impressed with the peculiarity of the two brothers who had just spoken, who after two years absence from each other and home should return at about the same time and speak from the same pulpit and testify with such force to the same truths after laboring so far apart, show ing an increased regard for the Priest hood and the things which should be held sacred. This, said the speaker could only happen in a community of Latter-day Saints. He called attention to the manner in which the Gos-pel was restored to the earth in this dispensation, The Church was not established by the Bible, Book of Mormon, but by direct revelation from God the Father, and that fact of revelation has made it possible that two brothers could labor so far apart, and still have the same testimony, as was given by the two brothers on this occasion. He bore his testimony that there is no joy so great as is the joy of that heart which has been touched by the conviction of the truth.

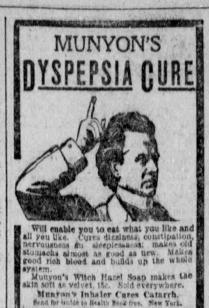

The choir sang, "Do what is right." Benediction was pronounced by Bishop The afternoon services were com-

The afternoon services were com-menced at 2 o'clock by the choir sing-ing, "We thank Thee, O God, for a Prophet:" prayer was pronounced by Elder Joseph Parry. Continued by the choir singing the anthem entitled, "Hark, what mean those heavenly voices." The names of the general and local authorities of the Church were presented and unanimously sustained. Sister Luella Ferrin sang a beautiful solo entitled, "The Plains of Peace."

Apostle Hyrum M. Smith addressed to congregation. He said the Latterday Saitns are a Church-going people, because they know that the authorities placed over them are called of God for the purpose of instructing them in the the purpose of instructing them in the principles of the Gospel. The testimony or knowledge of the Gospel is given to those who have faith and belive, a testimony of the Gospel is not given to infidels, because they do not seek it nor are they prepare to receive it. Joseph Smith received the product of the contract o giorious visitation of the Father and Son and the angels of the Lord, because of his great faith and his putting it in-to action by prayer, by serving the Lord and by keeping His laws and commandments. Everyone may receive a testimony of the truth upon the same conditions. The Lord gives His power and spirit to His servants who are sent into the world and if the people will but listen to the testimony of such and obey the Gospel, they will then know that this is the work of God. Joseph Smith was sent of God. The Saints have believed on him and given eed to the commandments of made known by him, and have been blessed by a living testimony of the truth. Others who will believe the truth and do the will of our Father in heaven will know of the doctrine whether it is of God or of man. "Could you or I have come to a knowledge of the truth if we had disbelieved the testimony of our fathers and mothers and the servants of God? I say no, but if we pray and of God? I say no, but If we pray and do what is right, the Lord will through His Spirit, testify to us of the doctrines and principles of the Gospel. I am thankful for the testimony I have received of the truth, and of the knowledge that God lives and has revealed the plan of life and salvation to man-kind through His servants in this dis-pensation."

Sister Luella Ferrin and Brother C. Ferrin sang, "Now I'll give you

Apostle George Teasdale next addressed the Saints. He said: The doctrines of the Gospel are the same yesterday, today and forever, It is hard or the world at large to believe the lospel because they have not been brought up to it. What is the disposition of the world today regarding the manent, and that the plaintiff be al-

Latter-day Saints? It is "away with the Mormons." The world feel this way because we say that the Lord has revealed the truths of the Gospel in this dispensation and that these truths must be preached to all the world, while the majority of Christianity believe that the Gospel has been preached to all the world.

The testimony we have received is a living testimony that will prepare us for the second coming of the Son of God, if we are faithful to the same. The speaker closed his remarks by admonishing the Saints to live their religion and keep the commandments of Prest. Joseph F. Smith said he was sorry there were not seats enough in the tabernacle to accommodate the people and hoped that the Saints of the Weber stake would get the spirit of erecting a larger building. He said in substance: "I am thankful to God that I have a knowledge of the truth, and a knowledge that the gospel has been established again on earth hever again to be thrown down or given to another people. We have not progressed perhaps in the past as we might have ne, but I hope we will prepare our selves for the coming of the Son of God. We must make up our minds that with all our might, mind and strength we are for the truth of the gospel. We must rid ourselves of the sins and wickedness of the world; we must be in a position that we can say, Father we love Thee with all our might and strength, that we may become like unto Him who was without sin, and who obeyed the will of His Father perfectly. We must do the will of our Father and in so doing we are best serving ourselves. Do you question my right to worship Him who is Almighty and Him who made the lands, seas and all tha in them is? Do you thing I am bellt tling myself by my subjecting myself to God? No man will say that I am doing wrong to honor and obey my Father in heaven. I have come to the conclusion that it is my duty to do the will of God, in order to prepare myself that I may be worthy to meet Him, and as for me and my house, we will serve God as far as we are given wisdom so to do. 'If I have the truth, can I afford to ignore it? I say, no. Error must fail but the truth will stand throughout time and all eternity. God lives and I know it and bear witness unto you that He is the Father of our spirits and of Jesus Christ, and that Christ has atoned for the sins of the world, and has redeemed us by His own blood from the fall of Adam, and you and I are today no longer under the conse quences of Adam's transgression. We stand upon our own footing. Although we are relieved from the sin of Adam, yet we must reform from our own sins, for we are responsible for them. It is left for me and for you to choose evil or good. That liberty is given unto us. If we do good we will receive the blessings of the same, but if we do evil we must suffer the consequences I love my religion, and I love my brethren and sisters, because we have entered into the law of liberty The willing and obedient will, in the latter days, enjoy the richest blessings of God, while the wicked will be cut If we want any comfert and bless ing from God we must get hear unto Him and not desert Him. We must acknowledge the hand of God in all things, and then we will be blessed of the Father. There is nothing that we can do that is too great in order to receive the blessings of eternal life. The choir sang an anthem, and the services were brought to a Prest. N. C. Fylgare offering the bene-

A TOUCHING SCENE IN CHURCH. After the regular Sunday morning service of the Church of the Good Shep-herd, yesterday, Rev. W. E. Maison who a short time ago tendered his resignation to the vestrymen of the church as paster, was presented by Mayor William Glasmann with two petitions, one signed by many citizens and busi-ness firms of the city requesting the reverend gentleman to withdraw his resignation and still remain in Ogden. The other petition was signed by 75 of the members of the church questing that Mr. Maison reconsider his action in resigning from the parish as their pastor.

Mayor Glasmann stated that the influence of Rev. Maison as a citizen and progressive man was not only known to his church members, but also to the entire community, and that the public Ogden. After the petitions were presented to Rev. Maison he made a very touching reply but did not promise to withdraw his resignation. He intimated that he might do this if some of the cares of his pastorate were lightened.

ANOTHER IRRIGATION SUIT.

Another big irrigation suit has been filed in the district court. Judge Ma-ginnis, attorney for the Lynn Irriga-tion company, has brought suit against H. N. Owen, asking for an injunction restraining the defendant from interfering with the water of the plaintiff company seemal and for $500 damages. The complaint recites that the defendant Owen entered upon said canal without the consent of the plaintiff filling the same with dirt and rocks, interfering with the flow of the water, therefering with the flow of the water, there-in and diverting the flow thereof. The plaintiff asks for a temporary restrain-ing order, which has been issued, preventing the defendant from so doing pending the adjudication of the case,

Special Correspondence.

Provo, April 21.-The division of Provo into six wards was made yesterday at the afternoon meeting in the tabernacle. Apostles Clawson and Smoot were present together with the stake presidency, Dr. J. Academy avenue is the western boundary of the First ward. From Academy avenue west to Fifth West street is the Sixth ward. The Second ward is the southwest part of town, west of Fifth West street. The Third ward extends east to Third West street. From Third West street to First East street is the Fourth ward, and from First Fast effect for the street. and from First East street east the Fifth ward. Before presenting the names of the Bishops and their counselors for support or rejection by the people, Apostle Smoot explained that Bishop Knudsen, who had presided over the First ward, but who now lived in the Sixth ward, would not be acalled to reside over would not be called to preside over that ward on account of his poor health. counselors.

The votes were unanimously in favor of each officer except in the case of Bishop Clayton of the Sixth ward, who was voted against by V. D. Cram and Wm. Harris. The former gave as a reason for his vote that there were differences between Bishop Clayton and himself, growing out of business transactions. Apostle Smoot invited Elder Cram to meet the Bishop and the Church authorities after the meeting, when an attempt would be made to effect a reconciliation. Elder Cram then gave an additional reason, he had just thought of: He had heard he had just thought of: He had heard Bishop Clayton use improper language on one occasion. Apostle Smoot also promised to have this matter inquired into at the subsequent meeting. Elder Harris had nothing further against the Bishop than that he did not like him. He was also invited to the meeting to follow the general meeting. A resolution was adopted providing for a a one-sixth interest in the north half of the Tabernacle block, which was owned by the four wards jointly, to be transferred to each of the new wards

After the business of the meeting was closed the new Bishops spoke briefly, expressing their desires to magnify the positions to which they had been called positions to which they had been called. Bishop Clayton expressed regret that at one time, when he had seen something that was very repugnant to his feelings, he had permitted himself to use improper language. Of this, however, he had sincerely repented. Bishops Knudsen and Eggertsen also spoke briefly, stating that they had been blessed in their labors, and promising them assistance to the new Bishops of their wards.

Apostle Clawson gave valuable coun-sels to the Bishops, and spoke of the responsibility of their office,
